

Fraternity or Cult

It really doesn't matter what name you choose. If you are a member of an private organization, that is not publicly accepted and recognized in its' standing then you are a member of a Fraternity or Cult. This meaning that if you have to take an oath or pledge loyalty to any organization that isn't created for the "public" good, then in other words you are a part of a "secret society." If your actions are not those which can be critiqued by the ordinary, general members of society, then you are a part of a secret society.

This is what is meant by shadowy government, which is also considered by most as the dark hand, evil, or of the house or synagogue of satan. No matter the organization you reference, whether it be government or religion. These people put the interest of the secret society above the interest of the public or general society, this being the people that are considered the citizenry.

In reference to this, if the members of public office are members of these fraternal organizations, or cults, then they actually are doing a disservice to the their public office. They are in other words hypocritical, and imposters. They work from the dark or in the recesses, and away from the public intent and view of society at large. They have a deviant agenda. This deviance is that which separates from the laws established through public record, as their actions are undertaken in secret.

So, when referencing the ill feelings that individuals such as myself have towards these people, it relates to their lack of respect of the laws and rules that all people have to abide by. This hate is actually conjured by the members of these groups through a lack of respect for the laws, and they are rightfully viewed as cheaters, as they violate the law through a shadow organization. They are working in part for private interests, while using the public medium to do so. They are a fraud. It is deception, this outside of the law which should be unambiguous, and not embody duplicity. One can better understand this through what can be seen by the opinion of the courts in turning back such duplicity in their rulings at the law.

When a person such as myself suffers from the pains that I do as a result of the bias, discriminatory treatment by these fraternal, occulted individuals, hate is warranted. I hate them for all the mornings that I cannot stand to my feet, and the tears that fall from my eyes because of their hate for me and my well being. It is particularly more appropriate when you see that they go out of their way not to cause White Catholic people the same pains that I suffer although they come under the same laws that I should have the right to receive the benefits of. They don't apologize for their hate. When you cause someone the pains that the Connecticut officials have caused me, It all comes down to hate.

This country was built on these fraternal organizations hate for Black people. So, in essence their laws are only a way to subdue the Black person. In their actions they sever until this day the Black fathers from their Black families. They do this knowingly, and with the assistance of Black people whom only lessen themselves by siding with these cults or fraternities. It doesn't matter that Black public officials become members of these societal organizations, they are still being used as a pawn to accomplish the overall mission of the racist, discriminatory organizations, only at a sanctioned public official level. They are still the House Negro to their Slave masters. So to speak, they are allowed in the "club" or fraternity to keep control over the masses in what was the "field" now considered the general public. Only the standard deviation has move outwards, it is still deviance, underhanded, wicked or evil.

The hate by anyone can be linked to not an aggression, or outward reaction. Instead, it is a disgust of these cult members as they have a lack of respect of the rules established by which all mankind is to abide by. Everyone should hate a cheater. A faithful wife or husband despises a cheating spouse. A golfer should hate a cheating competitor. The character, integrity of a public official is tied to the stability of the society at large. Dishonesty, and unfaithfulness should be hated. The disappointment comes from the undermining of the laws and rules of conduct which should not be set aside for the rules and conduct permitted in fraternities and secret societies.

I will hate their actions for an eternity. Their actions will not apply and will not be allowed to co-mingle with those of us that have a belief in justice in what we hope for to be "heaven". In this present realm they are allowed to participate, although deceptively in and amongst the honest, and just. Their actions are actually "Hellish," and should be separated from the "Heaven." This is what Justice is truly about. Although they pretend at justice in this society of which we live as human beings, they are actually the dark, and wicked of society hiding in the midst. They would be more honorable to simply operate outside of the public sector and hold to that which they believe in private, as the Klu Klux Klan.

As they are allowed to exist, the deception is when KKK members hold public office where they should have no hatred or value hate as they are serving the public. Connecticut public officials don't reach that level of respect, as even the Nazi hated and everyone knew it as they were the public official, as well as the private in their controlled society.. They didn't put on a mask or disguise of what they were, unlike those operating as such in the public official capacity in Connecticut. They don't stand up for what they believe, they instead slither like the snake, portraying one thing but in actuality performing another thing. No one hates a snake that they can see, you simply stand clear of it. People only fear and hate snakes they can't see.

So, no matter the organization the public official belongs to they are deceiving the public. I, as a student of public administrator belong to none such organization or fraternity, neither do I vote for either of the parties. It is this commitment to my profession that I am able to be unbiased as I am only beholding to the laws that govern the people. The democrats as well as the republican. The man as well as the man, the Black as well as the White, the heterosexual as well as the homosexual public officials are guilty of betraying the laws of this state, and therefore the trust of their individual offices they hold. Without favor to whatever fraternity, cult, or organization they as public officials belong to, I a professional unbiased opinion, which is higher in character and honor than even those appointed to be honorable overseers of the law, justice and the truth. Unlike them, I am not bought off through favor, money, nor fraternal oaths as such. I have been blessed with an equation, a formula, of which these people have all failed to balance.

So, no I cannot “hate” as others do, because unlike others I know better, being the holder of the “Scale of Justice” The “Hate” for these public officials is the hate which manifests upon finding anyone guilty of the imbalance of the scale. In such, it is not necessary to be the holder of the equation as I am, for they know within themselves as a murderer or thief knows he or she is guilty of committing the crimes they do. The only thing separating a criminal from not being one in this matter, is that they have not been judged. They have been caught, for the “deeds” have been committed. That which is done in the dark shall be brought into the light. This is the reprobated mind, and it is better to repent and turn away from the evil deeds than be judged. The truth prevails upon the judgment, doesn’t mean the judge knowing the crimes doesn’t hate the convict before the conviction, no more than one not liking a snake. It’s just that one should thank The Creator for the Light { $\infty U > 2|c| \leq U \infty$ } to be able to see the snakes, and I do thank The Creator for not having to be beholding to a cult or fraternity for direction in reading the balance of justice. People should strive to eschew evil. Does not politics make strange bedfellows? So, likewise what types of demons do members of these secret societies embrace?

I hope this answers your questions in regards to this topic. Please be sure to read my earlier documents. I will edit this material once I am feeling better than I am right now. Remember, we only have years to be in this present form of what we live in as humanity or what is reality in this realm.

Life is an eternity, can you imagine that? Most people can’t, so they try to get it all in now, only to suffer the remainder of what is forever. That is probably one thing that remains beyond my comprehension relating to people. Although, I actually know the “how” of it all coming about from the beginning of creation. What I don’t understand is why they choose the other side so to speak, as they have the opportunity to change. It is sad in a way, and that sadness conflicts more than anything with what could be considered hate. As I have written in the past, “no one should wish hell upon anyone.” But, if people choose it, there is nothing you can do, except watch the train wreck. Trust me, I have been trying to stop them from wrecking for years. But all I think they see is: “He’s Black, He’s Black. We know better.” This, after all they stole from Black people, from religion and building this country. Go figure. Me, I will just hold on to the Balance Formula Equation and wait. And pray that just one will be saved from this. You know like Lott.
